

ENVISION
UTAH

QUALITY
COMMUNITIES

ACADEMY

THE FOURTH ANNUAL QUALITY COMMUNITIES ACADEMY

Envision Utah has partnered with planners, designers, community development leaders, and other professionals to host an academy covering topics essential to the development of successful centers.

SEPTEMBER 1
10:00 AM TO 11:30 AM

Zoom
Webinar

CLICK HERE TO REGISTER

After many years of stakeholder and working group engagement, Envision Utah will launch the Creating Community Guide: A Guide to Walkable Centers at this year's Quality Communities Academy.

The guide is a resource for local governments, developers, and the public to create live, work, play, and learn communities in Utah. At the event, Envision Utah will present key topics in the guide, as well as how to use the guide as a resource for your community. We will also be hearing from speakers across Utah in breakout sessions.

This event will be free, but please RSVP to get it on your calendar and to choose which breakout session you would most like to be a part of.

BREAKOUT SESSIONS & SPEAKERS

Laura Hanson, Governor's Office of Planning and Budget

i. Myths & Public Engagement

Dissect how to engage the public to prevent opposition and overcome common myths about centers and density.

Ted Knowlton, Deputy Director at Wasatch Front Regional Council

Nichol Bourdeaux, Chief Planning & Engagement Officer at UTA

ii. Centers in Different Settings

The best centers are unique to their location. Learn about incorporating centers in a variety of settings including retrofits and in rural communities.

Mayor Holly Daines, Logan

Mayor Lenise Peterman, Helper

Ty McCutcheon, President & CEO of Daybreak Communities

iii. Implementation First Steps

How to get started as a city council member, elected official, or other city staff member.

Francis Lilly, Planning & Zoning Director at Millcreek

Paul Allred, Urban Planner

Thank you to our event sponsor

Questions? Contact Ryan Beck at RBeck@EnvisionUtah.org | 801-303-1458

